When is the best time to study abroad?

Students are eligible to study abroad as soon as the summer after their freshman year. Many International Business students choose to study abroad once they have been admitted to COBE and are eligible to take upper division courses. However, it is also possible to go abroad sooner and focus on taking language courses, disciplinary lens courses, and some of the COBE requirement courses.

Potential Internship Opportunities

- Teach Business English in Shanghai
- International Development in Alicante
- Marketing firm in Torino

This advising sheet will help you plan for a study abroad experience. You should begin the process of planning for your study abroad program now. Courses are subject to change depending on the semester and these are not the only options. Contact ILO for an advising appointment.*

International Business

Courses required for the International Business degree are offered in many different locations. The tables below by no means represent an exhaustive list of locations where each course is available. If there is a place you are interested in going that is not listed, contact the ILO Office to see what courses might be available there.

International Business Career Experience

This requirement is satisfied by any university-sponsored study abroad program.

Focus Area and History/Political Science Requirements

Depending on your focus area, it is certainly possible to take many courses that will count towards your focus area while abroad. Additionally many History and Political Science courses offered abroad can satisfy those requirements, even if they are not direct equivalents of courses offered at Boise State.

Language Requirements

Many of the USAC programs offer intensive language programs in which students can complete up to four semesters of Spanish, French, German, Chinese, Portuguese, Czech or Italian during one semester abroad. Some sites also offer opportunities to fulfill the language competency requirement as well.

Course Finder

A full list of all pre-approved courses can be found on the ILO website: <http://international.boisestate.edu/academic-information/coursefinder/>. Be aware that not every course is offered during every term, so you should consult both the program website and the Course Finder when planning your courses. It is also important to meet with your academic advisor, to ensure that you are staying on track with regard to your academic plan.

Approval Process

It is possible to take courses that are not listed on the Course Finder. If you would like a course to count as an equivalent to a specific Boise State course, you must take a course description or syllabus to the chair of the appropriate academic department. If the course is not something Boise State offers (i.e., Italian History), the course will simply count as an elective.
