FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Do I need to pay the full-time fees? If you plan to enter the United States with the F-1 or J-1 student visa, you are required to register for a minimum of 12 credits if you are an undergraduate student and 9 credits if you are a graduate student. International students are considered non-residents at Boise State University. Tuition costs on this form are listed for 12 credits (undergraduate) and 9 credits (graduate). To see official tuition rates, per credit hour costs, additional fees and Boise State policies, please refer to the Financial Services page on the Boise State website (vpfa.boisestate.edu/student-financial-services/boise-state-university-fees).

Do I need to submit financial documentation? If you plan to enter the United States with the F-1 or J-1 visa or are currently in the United States with the F-1 or J-1 visa and plan to transfer to Boise State, you will need to submit financial documentation to show you have the funds available to support you for one full year, and a funding plan for subsequent years. If you are currently in the United States on visa and plan to change to F-1 or J-1 status, you will also need to submit the financial documentation. If you are currently in the United States on a different type of visa and do not plan to change to F-1 or J-1 status, you will not need to submit any financial documentation.

I am being sponsored by my government. Do I need to complete this form? Yes, please complete this form indicating that you are a sponsored student. Please also submit the original financial guarantee from your government sponsor. Your sponsor does not need to complete the "Family/Sponsor Certification" part of the form.

What if I'm living with a host family or friends? You must show that you have the funds available for housing and food even you are being hosted by family or friends at no cost to you.

Scholarships or Assistantships? If you are receiving a scholarship or assistantship from Boise State University, the amount of the scholarship or assistantship will count towards the full amount you are required to document as available to you. You would then need to show documentation for the remaining estimated costs. Please note that this form is not an application for financial assistance. Please look at the Financial Aid and Scholarships website for details on scholarship opportunities.

Can I use evidence of annual salary as supporting documentation? No. Only savings or checking accounts can be used as supporting evidence of personal or family/friend sponsorship. If you have questions about what type of financial support documents are acceptable, please contact the International Admissions Office (interntl@boisestate.edu). We will be happy to review your documents by email.

How do I submit this form? This Financial Documentation form can be emailed to the International Admissions Office. You can also email us your supporting financial documents, issued in English, on the official agency's letterhead, or with the official agency's signature or official seal. All documents should be less than six months old. We reserve the right to request and review original financial documents. All original documents will be returned with your immigration paperwork.

Further questions? Please contact the International Admissions Office (interntl@boisestate.edu).
