Platform for Education in Emergencies Response “PEER”

- PEER is an online clearinghouse that allows displaced and refugee students to connect with educational opportunities so they may continue their higher education.

- Initially focused on the needs of Syrian students PEER will expand to become a global resource for refugee and displaced student populations.

- Additional services such as virtual advising will be added to the PEER platform in the future.

- PEER is mobile-ready and bi-lingual, offering services to students in English and Arabic.
IIE Syria Consortium for Higher Education in Crisis

- IIE is leading a consortium of over 60 higher education institutions around the world that have committed support for Syrian students and scholars, primarily in the form of full and partial scholarships.

- The IIE Consortium has provided support to more than 500 Syrian students.

- IIE is currently implementing the IIE Scholarship for Syrian Students under the umbrella of PEER and the IIE Syria Consortium
The IIE Scholarship for Syrian Students

The IIE Scholarship Program for Syrian Students provides Syrian students with the unique opportunity to continue their higher education in safety and gain the skills needed to rebuild their home country when peace returns to Syria.

The scholarship is funded by the Carnegie Corporation of New York, the Ford Foundation, the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and is administered as part of IIE’s Platform for Education in Emergencies Response.

IIE will award 24 scholarships of up to $50,000 for highly qualified Syrian students to complete their undergraduate or graduate programs at U.S. or foreign higher education institution. In addition, IIE will award approximately 100 emergency grants to assist Syrian students already enrolled in higher education to cover parts of their tuition and living expenses.
100 Syrian Women Scholarship, 10,000 Syrian Lives

This scholarship is open to Syrian women who have demonstrated exemplary social service and academic excellence. The program is lead by Jusoor and administered as part of the Syria Consortium for Higher Education in Crisis. Students receive up to $50,000 to cover living expenses and tuition.

From Camps to Campus

• In September 2015, six Syrian refugee students, three male and three female, were selected for the first round of IIE’s “FROM CAMPS TO CAMPUS” initiative.

• This pragmatic model leverages IIE's experience in implementing the Emergency Student Fund (ESF) program by supporting students who have already enrolled at Jordanian universities and remain in good academic standing but are at risk of dropping out for financial reasons.

• To date, the program has supported 12 Syrian students and 2 Jordanian students.
Emergency Student Fund

- In response to specific emergencies, IIE will issue a call for nominations to the Emergency Student Fund.
- Emergency grants are awarded to post-secondary international students matriculated at accredited educational institutions outside their home countries whose sources of support have been impacted by natural disaster or other crises.
- To date, IIE has awarded more than 800 emergency grants to students from Haiti, Iran, Japan, Libya, Nepal, the Philippines, Syria, Thailand, and Yemen, whose home sources of financial support were impacted by crisis or natural disaster providing over $2 million in financial aid.
Scholar Rescue Fund

• IIE-SRF fellowships support visiting appointments for threatened scholars to continue their work in safety.

• An institution of higher learning and research, such as a university, college, research center etc. can join in partnership with IIE-SRF to support a visiting fellow’s academic work.

• The IIE-SRF fellowship award includes a grant of up to US $25,000 and typically requires that the hosting institution provides financial support that is equal to or greater than the IIE-SRF fellowship award.

"At my host campus, I was very happy to have peace... to produce, to discuss and continue my research."

LIVES SAVED.
VOICES SAVED.
IDEAS SAVED.
Artist Protection Fund

• IIE developed the Artist Protection Fund to fill a critical unmet need to provide relief and safe haven to artists.

• Threatened artists from any field of artistic endeavor are eligible to apply.

• Host institutions are typically universities, arts centers, museums etc. in safe countries where they can continue their work.

• Host institutions match fellowship with in-kind or financial support.
